Republican State Convention.

The Republican State Convention is still in session at Louisville as we go to press. W. C. Owens is permanent chairman. Belknap seems to have control of the convention, and it was thought would receive the nomination on first ballot.

Judge Beckner, of Winchester, W. C. Owens, of Louisville, and W. P. Sweeney, of Mason, ex-Democrats, seem to be the big dogs at the convention—three sweet-scented graminums, they be.

LATER.—Belknap nominated on first ballot.

Mad Dog Killed.

Chief of Police Hill received a telephone message yesterday morning from Mrs. Speed Hilder that her little fox terrier was showing signs of hydrophobia. He at once went to her residence and after tying up the dog's mouth, took him out to the city lot and killed him. The dog was bitten last week by a mad dog, the same dog biting a steer belonging to Dr. Frank Fithian, which had to be killed.

Dangerous Playthings.

Sling-shots are now the rage with the small boys, and are in daily use on our streets. Yesterday there were several boys who had them in use on Pleasant street and thought it was great fun in running a little colored boy from his work in a yard cutting grass. These are dangerous things to play with, besides there is a law in regard to them. So boys take warning and lay them aside before you put out somebody's eye or arrested for shooting them on the street.

FRESH DAILY.—We roast peanuts daily. You can always get them fresh. 1t J. E. CRAVEN.

Taking Pictures.

Dan Ped, in the interest of the tobacco exhibit at the World's Fair, has been busy the last few days taking pictures of a number of prominent tobacco farms. Wednesday he made pictures of the handsome residence of Col. E. F. Clay, and a number of tobacco patches. He will take twelve or fifteen pictures of residences, farms, tobacco hanging and in patches. Mr. Ped deserves a great deal of credit for the interest he is taking in having old Kentucky, and especially Bourbon county, make a good show at the big fair.

Bourbon Should Do Her Part.

The Bourbon County Finance Committee of the Kentucky Exhibit Association will thoroughly canvas the county for subscriptions to the exhibit fund. Many have voluntarily offered to assist and have expressed the wish that Bourbon county, being one of the wealthiest in the State, will not lag behind her sister counties in this work. Let all therefore who have the best interests of their State and county at heart go to work with a will and assist the committee in the good work. Kentucky should by all means be represented at the St. Louis Exposition and Bourbon county should do her part.

School Per Capita Increased.

Superintendent of Public Instruction McChesney announced Wednesday the apportionment of the school fund for the year ending June 30, 1904, as follows:

Auditor's estimate of the school fund for the year, $1,947,165.19. Seven hundred and thirty-two thousand eight hundred and forty-one school children, as shown by reports of school officers, at $2.60 per pupil, $1,902,786.60.

The increase in per capita from $2.32, the amount paid last year, is due to two conditions. The per capita last year, was materially reduced by the loss, of tax on State banks, resulting from the act of the General Assembly, refunding the State banks the taxes they had paid under the old laws in excess of the amount they should have paid.

The second reason for the increase is an increase of about $212,000 in the Sheriff's revenue for the present year.

FRUIT JARS.—Mason quart fruit jars at 50 cents per dozen. 2t ARKLE'S GROCERY.

Lynching in Fleming.

William Thacker, who three years ago shot and killed a young man named Gordon, near Foxport, was taken from the Flemingsburg jail between 12 and 1 o'clock Wednesday night by a mob and hanged. There were twenty or twenty-five men in the mob, and they are said to have come from Foxport.

Thacker had been tried twice and was given a life sentence in the penitentiary each time, but his attorneys secured a reversal of the judgment in the Court of Appeals on some technicality. A month or so ago Thacker was returned to the Fleming jail from the penitentiary, and was awaiting his third trial. The jail was visited at midnight one night last week by some parties who tried to enter, and it was thought at the time they were Thacker's friends and had come to aid him in escaping.

Gordon's murder was a cold-blooded one, and the feeling was so strong at the time that Thacker had to be sent to the Maysville jail for safe keeping.
